

You want to apply your Software Development skills to develop highly scalable machine learning products? Then we have a job for you!

Junior Software Developer (Cloud Native/Big Data) 100%

Who We Are

ambrite is a Swiss company offering software solutions for data mining, predictive analytics and TV Services with branches in South Africa and Latvia. Through our focus on integrating state-of-the-art open source software with the latest machine learning research we have become a key partner to local and global players in Switzerland and Europe within the sectors of government, energy and telecommunications.

We are currently working with the leaders in Entertainment Services in Switzerland and Europe to provide software solutions for backend systems and user interfaces for pay TV. For this in our Stellenbosch branch we are looking for machine learning engineers and software developers that are as passionate about TV consumer services and data science as we are. Together, we will create a next generation platform which will replace or extend current consumer services in the market. We are looking for you to develop this next generation of software.

What We Are Looking For

Must-Haves:

- Degree in Computer Science or Electrical Engineering
- Strong interest in performant, scalable code
- Java a must, TypeScript a plus
- Interest in DevOps, Infrastructure (Kubernetes) a plus
- Strong interest in Cloud Technologies, especially Google Cloud

Preferable:

- Experience working with machine learning frameworks, large-scale data processing systems, or cloud infrastructure

What We Offer

- become a member of a motivated international team with its headquarters in Switzerland
- consumer projects with interesting clients in Europe and North America
- conference visits, courses for further education and extensive library
